The Daily Courant.

Monday, April 12. 1714.

London, April 12.
On Saturday arrived a Mail from Holland.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated April 17.

Gessa, March 31.

OUR last Advices relating to the Barceloners, say they continue very resolute, and had taken in the Night, by Means of some small Vessels, several Transports laden with Provisions belonging to the Spanish Squadron, which had been obliged by tempestuous Weather to retire from before Barcelona. What has been reported of the sending a Convoy from the Island of Corsica with Provisions for Barcelona, is not true; on the contrary, this Republick has forbid under rigorous Penalties, in all their Dominions, the transporting of any Provisions to Catalonia. A Courier dispatched from Paris to the new King of Sicily, arrived here the 21st of this Month, and immediately embarked for Palermo; whence we learn, that Order has been given for all Neapolitan Vessels to retire out of all the Ports of Sicily, the Sicilian Shipping being prohibited Entrance into the Ports of the Kingdom of Naples: So that Commerce is interdicted between those two Kingdoms. Some Advices tell us, that their Sicilian Majesties will shortly repulse the Sea & Land Ships of Malta, and that they will leave a Vice-roy in Sicily. P. S. 'Tis reported, that the Barceloners have at length consented to refer themselves to the Discretion of their Imperial and Catholick Majesties; of which we wait the Confirmation.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated April 17.

Basel, April 8. By virtue of a Treaty of Peace concluded and signed at Rischach the 28th of last Month between the two Cantons of Zurich and Berne and the Abbot of St. Gall, that Prelate is to have all the Places and Territories which have been taken from him restored to him: But the Inhabitants of the County of Togenbourg are to enjoy their antient Liberties and Privileges, without being ever molested by the Abbots of St. Gall in the Exercise of the Protestant Religion or otherwise. And the Parties to the Treaty take respectively on themselves the Damages and Charges during the last War, without pretending to any Reimbursement. So that this Treaty is more honourable than profitable to the said two Cantons.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated April 17.

Seashayzen, April 8. The Emperour has notified to the Canton of Zurich, that Baden is chosen for the Place of holding the general Congress for confirming the Treaty of Peace of Rastatt; and desired the Regents of that Canton to be pleased to give such Orders therefore as on such Occasions are usual. We know not yet what the three Cantons who are Masters of Baden have resolved upon this; but Barracks are building for the Soldiers of the Garrison, and Stabling for the Horses; and the Regents of the said three Cantons, pursuant to the Peace made at Arau, are caning a Church for the Protestant Worship to be built just without Baden, which will be finished before the Plenipotentiaries come to the Congress: But this is looked upon with an evil Eye by the Romish Cantons, who are in firm Hopes that the Emperour and the King of France will procure all that was taken from them during the last War to be restored to them, because the Abbot of St. Gall who was the Firebrand that kindled that War, and drew the Romish Cantons into it, is restored to all that he lost.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated April 17.

Lisse, April 14. Men begin now to talk, that the King of France's Troops will not form any Camp in these Parts; the Court having resolved not to make the Reform in the Field, but in the several Towns where the Troops are quartered.

From the Hague Courant, dated April 18.

Brussels, April 16. The Rumours of the great Preparations made by the French on the Frontiers, diminish daily; and 'tis advised from Maubeuge, that the Elector of Cologne has not only ordered the Officers of his Troops, which consist now of about 2500 or 3000 Men, to forbear recruiting, but to disband 4 Companies of every Regiment.

London, April 12.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from France.

From the Paris Letter, dated April 15.

Paris, April 15. The King has banished two of the Doctors of the Sorbonne who opposed the Reception of the Pope's Bull, and has interdicted six others from attending at the Assemblies of the Society, among them M. Vitasse Professor Royal who is also deprived of his Professorship. The King is gone to Marly, and will continue there till the 18th of May; the Duchess of Berry stays at Versailles, because she is big with Child. The Troops of the King's Household have been reviewing these 4 Days by their Head Officers, and the general Review of them will be next Thursday in the King's Presence. Next Week the general Reform of the Troops will be begun, and 'tis said they will be reduced to 10000 Men. 'Tis advised from Madrid the 2d Instant, that the King accompanied by the Prince of Asturias assisted at the Offices of the Holy Week in the Church of the Trinitarians. His Majesty has given the Commanderie of Viso y cruz of the Order of Calatrava, vacant by the Death of the Duke of Medina Sidonia, to Don Fernando Suarez, the Prince's Sub-Governour, in Consideration of his Services. The 31st of last Month, the Marquis de Brancas set out from Madrid to return to France, to settle his private Affairs pursuant to Permission granted him by his most Christian Majesty. The Cardinal del Giudice was gone from Madrid some Days before, accompanied by his Nephew the Prince of Cells, mare, with some of the King's Horses and Equi-page, but whither was not known. According to the Advices from Catalonia of the 25th of March, M. du Casse joyned the Spanish Squadron the 19th, with four French Men of War, having left at Palamos the Transports he had under his Convoy, laden with Ammunition and Provisions, which could not be landed because of the stormy Weather: In the mean while the Rebels of Barcelona persisted in their Obsturacy; and upon Intelligence that those of the open Country had retired to the Mountains towards Besora to fortify themselves there, Sig. de Bracamonte and Gonzalez were marched to dislodge them. Other Advices of a fresher date, assure us that the Barceloners consent to lose their Privileges. The Cardinal del Giudice arrived at our Court last Sunday; we do not learn yet what the Business is that he is come about.

Hague, April 17. If Credit may be given to certain Letters from Paris of the 9th Instant, "the King of Spain is in a very wasting Condition, pining away of much such a Dilemper as his Consort died of."
